

Israel Shipyards Policy for the Management of Quality, Environmental, Safety, and Occupational Health Systems

Company Vision

To be a leading shipyard, developing a variety of advanced maritime solutions and creating meaningful partnerships with its customers.

Management Statement

Israel Shipyards management regards quality, safety, employee health, and environmental management as a central axis of its activity.

The company operates an integrated management system by ISO 9001 for quality management, ISO 14001 for environmental management, and ISO 45001 for occupational health and safety management, as a tool for achieving its objectives while maintaining the principles of product quality, sustainability, employee safety, and health.

Policy Principles

Commitment to Quality:

- Managing processes professionally and responsibly to achieve high customer satisfaction.
- Compliance with relevant quality standards and regulations, including customer requirements and delivery times.
- Integration of quality management system requirements into work processes, with the allocation of suitable resources and employee training.

Commitment to Environmental Management:

- Compliance with environmental laws and regulations.
- Reduction of adverse environmental impacts and preservation of natural resources.
- Leading continuous improvement processes in environmental management through annual goals and allocation of resources.

Commitment to Safety and Occupational Health:

- Providing a safe work environment, delivering information, and training employees on work-related risks and preventing injuries.
- Addressing and eliminating risk factors and planning actions to prevent workplace injuries.
- Supplying work equipment and certified personal protective equipment following laws, standards, and procedures.

Policy Implementation:

- The company's management allocates the necessary resources for the integrated system.
- Employees and managers are committed to continuous improvement in quality, environment, and safety.
- The policy is updated as needed and made available to employees, subcontractors, and stakeholders.

Management Responsibility:

Israel Shipyards management will demonstrate leadership and responsibility for meeting quality, safety, and environmental objectives.
